Federal Agents Probing Ku Klux Klan Activities.KLAN IS TAKEN UP
IN SENATE DEBATESenator Stanley and Watson
Engage in a Verbal Clash Over Organization.Washington, Sept. 23.—High officials of the Ku Klux Klan may be summoned to Washington for investigation by the department of justice, attorney general Daugherty indicated today.Director Burns of the department's bureau of investigation, Daugherty announced, has been instructed to set its agents at work in an investigation of the Klan's organization in various parts of the country. In connection with the possible summoning of Klan leaders to Washington, the attorney general said, the department of justice had the authority to summon anyone and it was its policy in the course of an investigation to talk the matter over with persons involved.The attorney general pointed out that any criminal prosecutions would be the most part be matters of state law unless there had been some violations of the federal statutes through the use of the mails to defraud.There is no need in this country, Daugherty said, for vigilance organizations. The country does not need, he added, any self-constituted organization to defend and enforce the laws or American citizens.During discussion of the anti-hered, the Ku Klux Klan and religious tolerance entered into the debate in the floor of the senate.Senator Watson, from Georgia, attacked that religious liberty had not been secured in the United States under the charter granted Lord
Baltimore.Senator Stanley, from Kentucky, insisted that "there was only one place in all the civilized world where man could worship his God and the dictates of his conscience and that was in the province of the athletic nobleman, Lord Baltimore.""I am here to fight intolerance whether it whets its knife and lights its torch in a Ku Klux Klan camp in Georgia or whether in Western Ohio, it takes the form of these miserable general warrants," added Senator Stanley, referring in the latter case to the anti-saloon league which has its headquarters at Westerville."I will meet the Ku Klux Klan when it comes up," declared Senator Watson. "Until some crime is proved against that society or some other secret society with which this country is honey-combed I will withhold my judgment until the guilt of the accused is established by competent testimony."

Governor Denounces Ku Klux.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—Governor Arthur M. Hyde condemned the Ku Klux Klan as an organization before meeting of Masons here, declaring it "a secret, futile organization whose methods are subversive to American ideals and the rule of the law." Governor Hyde declared that Masons have "no connection with the organization and want nothing to do with it."

the American people called attention to the national convention of the Red tion, is bound for Moscow. The ship-

CITY OF CHICAGO

BEGINS LIBEL SUIT

To Recover $10,000,000 from Chicago Daily Tribune.Chicago, Sept. 23.—The $10,000,000 libel suit of the city of Chicago against the Chicago Tribune opened with counsel for the newspaper asking the court to uphold a general de-murrer based on the constitutional right of the freedom of the press.The suit involves the question of whether a newspaper may be sued for libel to the extent of its total value and virtually be put out of business if the suit is won.The libel action grew out of statements made by the Tribune in the last city election, criticizing the present city administration for the manner in which municipal finances were handled. The city contends that the articles and editorial expressions on which the suit is based damaged the city's credit in disposing of municipal bonds.

Three Men Murdered.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—Three men were found murdered and robbed in southern Illinois. Missouri Pacific freight crews found one body in a lumber car at Dupon, another at Wolf Lake and the third at Paisley. Skulls of two were crushed. A piece of bloodstained lumber was found near one of the bodies. The other man had been shot through the heart.
Authorities believe the three were together in the freight car and that they were killed in a fight with other men on the train and the bodies dumped out.

Turkish Advances Developing.

Constantinople, Sept. 23.—A Turkish official communiqué, just issued, says that west of the Sakaria river pursuit of the Greeks continues. The Turkish advance is developing and the Greeks are abandoning numbers of cannon and machine guns and also tons of materials.

GASOLINE TAX IS SUGGESTED

One Cent a Gallon Advocated by Senator Walsh.URGES AMENDMENT
TO HOUSE TAX BILLPlan To Reduce Normal Tax Rates on Incomes of $15,000 or Less.Washington, Sept. 23.— Amendments to the house tax revision bill were offered by Senators Walsh and Gerry, Democratic members of the senate finance committee.Reductions in the normal tax rates on individual incomes of $15,000 or less and a graduated tax of from 10 per cent to 20 per cent on the incomes of corporations in places of the suggested flat rate of 15 per cent were proposed.To make up the $105,000,000 loss from the tax on individual incomes, it was proposed that a tax of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline be imposed at the source and that the capital stock tax, yielding around $60,000,000 annually, be retained. The majority bill provides for the repeal of this tax, effective in 1922.Under the Gerry amendment, individual taxpayers whose net income is less than $5,000 would pay a normal rate of 2 per cent instead of 4 per cent on $4,000, as provided in the revised bill; taxpayers whose net income is between $5,000 and $10,000 would pay a normal tax of 4 per cent on the excess over $5,000 instead of 8 per cent on all over $4,000.Incomes in excess of $15,000 would pay at the rate of 8 per cent on all over that amount, but it was explained they would receive the benefit of the lowered normal tax up to $15,000. The surtax rates as fixed by the finance committee would remain unchanged.Under the corporation income tax amendment offered by Senator Walsh the rate on the first $100,000 of corporation net income would be 10 per cent; that on the income between $100,000 and $200,000 would be 15 per cent, and that on the income in excess of $200,000 would be 20 per cent.

NORMAL SCHOOL WILL BE MOVED ON MONDAY

State Street Building To Be Home of Institution.

WHICH NOW HAS ENROLLED
THIRTY-FIVE STUDENTS

Purpose Is To Be Give Students Opportunity of Observing the School in Regular Work.

The normal school is to be transferred from the Harding high school building to the North State Street building, Monday. It was announced today by Superintendent H. R. McVay.

The new North Main Street building will open Monday and a room at the North State building will thus become available at the State street building for use of the normal students.

There are thirty-five students enrolled in the normal course. Several teachers in the building will be appointed as training teachers to assist Miss Haldee Gross, principal of the normal. The state will furnish money to assist in paying the extra salary of teachers assisting in the demonstration of teaching methods in the room, and also in superintending the normal students in their practice teaching.

The moving of the normal school to a grade building is to give the students an opportunity of observing a school in its regular work.

W. B. Bliss, of Columbus, assistant state director of education, was in the city Tuesday and Thursday examining the building for the normal school.

The State street building was pronounced ideal for normal school purposes.

BUCKEYE BRIEFS

Peter Manning's Feat.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—Peter Manning, 1:55, broke the local track trotting record of 2:01, held by The Harvester, when he trotted an exhibition mile in 1:55 1/4.

Nearly 7,000 at State.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—Students enrolled at Ohio State university now number 6,601, according to C. A. Kunz, comptroller, as compared with 6,059 on the same date a year ago.

Would Regulate Buses.

Lorain, O., Sept. 22.—Unless city council passes legislation forcing jitney buses here to conform to the same regulations as streetcars, service will be curtailed and possibly withdrawn by the Lorain Street Railway company, G. L. Glitsch, counsel for the company, declared.

Mysterious Murder.

Canton, O., Sept. 22.—William Staub, Minerva business man, was shot to death at that village. His lifeless body was found in a lumber yard a short distance off the main street. The shooting is a mystery, but robbery is ascribed as the cause. Staub was known to carry big sums of money on his person.

Labor For Unemployed.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—State Health Director Shively has urged municipalities which previously have been ordered to construct waterworks and sewage disposal plants to start the work immediately, if possible, to provide labor for the unemployed. Between 35 and 40 such projects are pending. Their construction will aggregate $7,000,000.

Panama Canal Tonnage.

Washington, Sept. 22.—During the fiscal year 1921 a new high record was established for American tonnage passing through the Panama canal, according to official reports received here. In a total of 2,902 ships traversing the waterway, 1,512 were American, exclusive of government owned and chartered vessels. The nearest competitor of the United States was Great Britain, whose flag appeared on 970 ships.

SPORTING NOTES

The record of Hughie Walker shows that the Kansas City batter has engaged in ninety-nine fights without ever winning or losing on a foul.

Old Anderson, once touted as a coming champion in the heavy-weight division, is now traveling heat on the St. Paul police force.

Cleveland is preparing for the entertainment of the annual tournament of the Western Chess association, which is to be held in that city in early October.

Joe Tinker's Orlando team, champions of the Florida State league, has been making a barn-storming tour of the state since the close of the regular season.

According to gossip in the Pacific coast league three of the clubs making up the league circuit are likely to change ownership before the opening of the next season.

The University of Chicago's big football team this season outside of the regular conference schedule will be with the Princeton Tigers, to be played at Princeton on October 22.

The early demand for tickets indicates that the Polo grounds will hold a record crowd on September 30, when the Giants and Braves are to engage in a testimonial game for the benefit of Christy Mathewson, the old Giant Star.

William H. McCarthy, well-known as the president of the Pacific coast baseball league, has been chosen president of the California Football association, which is to conduct professional football this winter in San Francisco and some of the near-by cities.

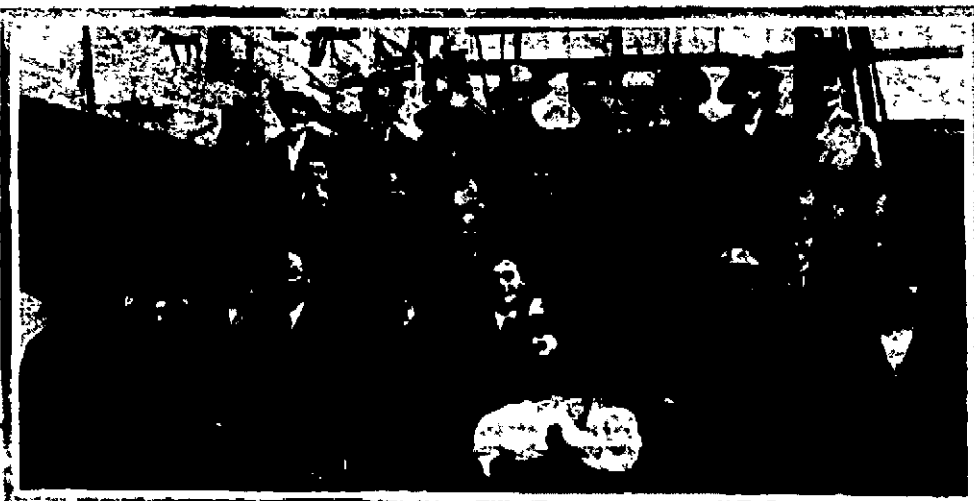

President Rubian of the Metropolitan A. C. suggests the building in New York of a great auditorium or athletic bowl in which college football could be played, boxing contests held in the evenings during the summer, and amateur athletics generally promoted.

In 1782 it was reported in the minutes of the Honorable company of Edinburgh Golfers that "port and punch shall be the ordinary drink of the society unless upon such days as the silver cups and clubs are played for. At these meetings claret or any other liquor more agreeable will be permitted."

Jimmy Wilde, the best little boxer who ever came across the pond to display his fares before American fight fans, was a minor before he took up the boxing game. Now that his fighting days are drawing to a close, Jimmy is retiring with a comfortable bank account, and it is rumored in English sporting circles that he may stand for parliament as a miners' representative.

TWENTY-EIGHT IN FAMILY ARRIVE FROM RUSSIA

J. E. P. Matthews, commander of the Royal liner Orbita, brought as passengers on his vessel a "little in itself." The "little" consisted of Troul Ostrowski and twenty-seven other members of this family. The immigrants are Russian refugees who are going to Akron, Ohio. For four years they have been in hiding in Budapest. The head of the family told Captain Matthews when he boarded at Southampton: "I have sixteen of my own children in the party. The others of the group are my three sisters and my brother and their families." Ostrowski is a fighter. The youngest member of his party was his three-month-old niece, Olga. His wife is dead. He added: "My brother has been in Akron for some time. He has told us what is required of immigrants to America, and I am sure we will fulfill the requirements of the rules that are applied to us."

MERCHANTS' BOWLING LEAGUE IS FORMED

Edward Dorward Is Chosen as President—Other Officers.

The members of the Marion Bowling association met Thursday evening at the Palace Bowling alley and elected the following officers for the season: Edward Dorward, president; J. F. Pasch, secretary; E. W. Schoenlaub, treasurer.

The league will be known as the Merchants' league this season and will be under the sanction of the American Bowling congress. All bowlers in the league will be eligible to the medals and awards offered by the American Bowling congress as well as to the awards which a number of Marion merchants have donated.

The merchants boosting the league will name the teams, and these with the capitaine will be announced at a later date. The schedule will begin October 4.

VEIOCK ON SPORTS

New York, Sept. 25.—Big to-do up in Harlem today.

Indians on the warpath. Yanks in a fighting mood. Thirty thousand odd fans elbowing each other in a rush for the best seats. Platons of cops. Hot dogs. Crucial series. Gotham was agog with excitement as Tris Speaker prepared to lead his world's champions against the Yanks in the first of a four-game series that is expected to decide the American league pennant, and not without reason.

Never before in the history of either major league has there been a championship race of such long sustained competition between two clubs.

For two months, the Yankees and Indians have slugged each other about in the fight for the lead. First one then the other has been on top and today they are practically tied with a percentage point and a fraction separating first and second places. The hike over the long trail from April has brought them down to this standing.

New York . . . . . W L Per.
Cleveland . . . . . 92 54 .6300

The battle for the pennant will rage here for four days. It amounts to a little World series.

New York has never before had such bright prospects of supporting an American league champion team and the fans have fallen over each other in the battle for reserved seats. Every seat and every box has been sold for the four games.

The Indians, minus the services of Manager Speaker, have proved themselves one of the gamiest outfits that has ever fought a winning battle on the road in either league. Speaker, still suffering with a twisted knee, will direct the fight of his team, however, and Miller Huggins will find himself called upon to use every hook and crook known to baseball generalship to outwit the shaggy Cleveland pilot.

Speaker was expected to send Coveleskie, his pitching marvel, against the Yanks today. Huggins had Carl Mays and Waite Hoyt, the low wonder, ready for the firing line. While the Yanks and Cleveland are having it out here, the Giants will attempt to clinch the National league pennant at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals—a task that is no mean assignment.

McGraw's team still holds a four-game lead over Pittsburgh and the hopes of the Pirates, who must win all of their remaining nine games to beat New York if the Giants win three out of seven have been blown to smithereens.

It is only a question of time now until the Giants will clinch the pennant. In short, it will be clinched as soon as they win three games or the Pirates lose two more.

BASEBALL

Mother of Star Dies.

Easton, Md., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Mary C. Baker, seventy-one years old, mother of J. Franklin Baker, Yankee star and formerly home-run king, is dead at her home near Trappe, Maryland, today. Mrs. Baker's death was caused by cancer of the stomach. Baker rushed home and reached the bedside of his mother before the end came. Baker today is grief-stricken and it is not believed he will play baseball again this season.

Testing the Bows.

Homers by Ward and Quinn and fine pitching by the latter coupled with all-around heavy hitting by the Yanks, gave them a victory over Detroit.

It took twelve innings, but the Indians kept pace with the Yanks by trimming Boston. Steve O'Neill's double in the twelfth started the fireworks.

The Dodgers helped the Giants by getting an even break with Pittsburgh. Grimes lost the first game, but Cadore, Schupp and Smith allowed Pittsburgh only five hits in the second. The Browns bunched ten hits off Moore to win the first game and Stier contributed a homer that won the second at Philadelphia.

Three recruit pitchers worked for the Phils and Reds and Donahue, Moran's young star, outpitched Sheehan and Betts.

Caloric, the quality farance. 20317

UPPER SANDUSKY WILL PLAY HERE ON SUNDAY

To Meet Marion Daily Stars.
Game at 2:30 P. M.

The Upper Sandusky baseball team made up of some of the former team of Reds and stars from around the Indian village will come to Marion Sunday to meet the Marion Daily Stars. The manager of the Upper Sandusky team has organized a strong team with a view to defeating the locals and it is expected that several hundred fans will accompany the team here to root for their favorites.

Marion will probably be without the services of Catcher Joe Conroy and Third Baseman Harry Weller, but these places will be filled by good players so that the locals will have a strong team in the field. Either Anderson or Lawrence will do the receiving and Fetter will shift to third base and the locals feel confident they will be able to win regardless of the fact that two of the regulars will be out. The game will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Magnetic Springs Victor.

Magnetic Springs, victor in two well played games at Tawa park Sunday, was winner of the baseball tournament. The first game in which Magnetic Springs was pitted against Prospect, resulted in a seven to five victory for the Springs lads. The winners then played Richwood and took away the bacon, the score being six to four. Richwood was in front by a score of four to three at the beginning of the eighth inning. Benner, pitching for Richwood, his first game this season, and Ross was forced to substitute, allowing sufficient runs to put the game on ice for the lads from the Springs—Richwood Gazette.

KIND OF PITCHER THAT RUTH DOES NOT FANCY

He's the Fellow That Gives Him
 Four Wide Ones.

SAYS PITCHING FIGURES SHOW HE IS FEARLESS

That is To Say, He Doesn't Fear
 One Pitcher More Than Any Other.

[BY BARK RUTH.]

The pitching figures for the closing season confirm what I wrote early in the year about having no more fear for one pitcher than I have for another. It is true some of them tie me up in knots from time to time but I mean I don't have any special tricks up my sleeve for Walter Johnson or Red Faber that I do not use on every other pitcher.

This is not said in a bragging spirit or intended to take any credit from any of the star pitchers I have faced. It is a matter of confidence and experience backed by results that eliminate all disputes.

Of my fifty-six homers this year in only four instances have I acquired as many as three off of the same pitcher. One of them being the Kind of Speed, Walter Johnson; the other three were Daves of the Tigers, Caldwell of the Indians, and Davis of the Browns. The fact that fifty-six circuit swats were collected off of thirty-seven different pitchers shows that I have no "easy marks" or particular favorites.

"Wholesome Respect."

There was a time when I did considerable thinking as I faced the powerful speed-ball wizard of the Senators. And take it from me, I nor anyone else in the American league, have anything but a wholesome respect for his terrific speed.
 today. In his last game against the Yankees at the Polo grounds, Johnson had as much smoke for seven innings as I ever saw in my life.

Last year I had a tough time knocking him for one lone home run.
 This season, the first time I faced him, I drove the first ball he pitched, out of the park. Since then I have added two more circuit swats and a couple of hits on the side. In four games I gathered five hits while the big fellow slipped me a base on balls four times. On three occasions he set me down with three strikes but I believe the season's figures are in my favor.

Zachary, a teammate of Johnson's, is no sensation in the pitching averages, but he has crossed me more than any of the stars. I believe he struck me out more than any other pitcher this year and so far as I remember has only weakened and walked me to first on one occasion.

The Walking Evil.

When it comes to the walking evil
 there is no particular class of pitchers more guilty than the other. In many instances it is the manager on the bench and not the pitcher who is to blame. Lee Fohl of the St.
 Louis Browns, must have a mania for base on balls because Shocker and Davis give me more free tickets than any two pitchers in the league.

I have heard several times that Ty Cobb is panned for instructing his pitcher to "pitch" to me. In other words to take a chance and fool me if possible. Well if that is true I don't know how they explain all the free transportation I receive from Howar Ehmke, unless he just gets particularly wild when I come to bat.
 In this connection, recall one afternoon last July, when Ehmke deliberately passed me three times in succession. From the way Cobb was wagging the high sign out in center field it was clear that Ehmke was following instructions and not giving me a chance to get near to the ball.

Where Dixie Davis and Ehmke have walked me about seven times a piece, fellows like Jones and Rommel seldom give me free transportation and yet I get more homers off the former pair despite less opportunities.

My quarrel is not with the pitcher who for strategic reasons or under emergency instructions gives me four wide ones in a pitch. But many a pitcher purposely walks a good batter in order to keep his number of hits per game at a minimum, which, after all, is the true and important appraisal of pitching value.

The Marion Poultry association held a meeting at the poultry tent

ERIE TRAINS DELAYED BY BURBANK PILE-UP

Eighteen Cars Carrying Gasoline and Lumber Ditched.

MARION AND KENT WRECK CREWS ARE CALLED OUT

Special Train Carrying Pennsylvania Officials on Inspection Tour Here.

Eastbound connection train, No. 28, on the Erie was wrecked one and one-half miles west of Burbank near Avondale, at 11:26 o'clock yesterday morning, and eighteen cars were ditched, blocking both main tracks many hours.

As the train broke in the middle at the time of the accident, the engine and the foremost of the train were not derailed and no one was hurt. The very wrecked contained gasoline, lumber, oats and fruit, principally fruit. The piece of track on which the accident occurred was considerable of a down grade and the train is thought to have been traveling at a high rate of speed when the accident happened, from the condition of the wrecked cars.

The wrecker from Marion and the wrecker from Kent were both called out and the right-of-way was not clear until nearly eleven hours after the accident. Passenger service was maintained by transferring passengers from one train to another around the wreck. Erie train No. 15, due here at 4 p. m., arrived in Marion seven hours late last night, and No. 7, due at 11 p. m., arrived three hours late. The wreckage was not entirely cleared away by noon today.

The Old Campaigner Tells How He Subconsciously Discovered a Plot to Overthrow English Rule in the East and of the Dauntless Courage of an Officer Who Thwarted It

Copyright, 1923, by Fidelity Printing Company

"There is no village," proudly responded a kind mother, and then added, "And I am so worried about her. I haven't had a letter from her for nearly two years."

"There is where you made a mistake," said the prompt proprietor of the village. "I looked it up for you in the book, and it said you said her to leave her home and come to the village."

"There is no college," proudly responded the food mother, and then added: "And I am so worried about her. I haven't had a letter from her for nearly two weeks."

"There is, there you made a mistake," was the prompt rejoinder of the "mother." "Indeed, of course, but as to the letter, that's different; you must go to her for that and see if she has any."

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

"Well, that's settled."

Dicky came out of the quiet inn on Shelter island with an air of triumph, and I knew that the ordering of the dinner to which we had invited Claire Foster and Dr. Pettit had been accomplished. His next words echoed the worried thought in my own mind.

"We'd better be getting back to the farm, pronto," he said with a comical air of concern. "Mother may decide to lock us up on bread and water, and not let us out tonight for the dinner."

But when we reached the Ticer farm again, Mother Graham was nowhere to be seen. An open desk, with notepaper, pen and ink laid out, showed that she had been writing. On the floor lay a closely written page, and Dicky picked it up with an impish grin.

"Probably this is her substitute for the note on the pillow," he said. "Mayhap she has left us forever."

He looked at it eagerly, then with more attention and at last gave a delighted chuckle.

"Listen to this!" he exclaimed. "It is the most wonderful old house you could imagine. I am so anxious for you to see it. Of course it is dilapidated now, but Richard is having it decorated and repaired, and it will be quite a show place when it is finished. It is a splendid example of a colonial mansion."

"You shouldn't read her letter," I said reprovingly.

"She shouldn't leave it decorating the floor," Dicky retorted. "And I'm not reading the whole letter, simply that extract, which is our due anyway. This is too, too good. After slandering the place and ev-everything connected with it all these days, she's writing to somebody, praising it to the skies. Wonder who her correspondent is. Of course it would be only Dicky to restore this sheet to its desk," he walked toward it, "and having restored said sheet," he ostentatiously clamped the piece of paper down with a paper weight. "I think it becomes my due to investigate a little."

He bent over the writing table, and in another second turned to me with a gesture of exultation.

"I thought so," he said, ignoring my disapproving frown. "Her first husband is to be the recipient of this letter. I knew mother couldn't resist an opportunity like this to crow a bit over Mrs. Durkee."

"I shouldn't advise you to linger too long over that desk," I said dryly, and he obeyed my admonition with an alacrity that showed how much he feared his mother's disapproval.

"We'd better hunt her up, don't you think?" he said nervously, and I followed him down the road to a woodland trail which Mrs. Ticer—when we went to her for news of Mother Graham's whereabouts—told us she had taken.

We found her seated on a fallen log with Junior playing at her feet. It was something but a happy look that she bestowed upon us, however.

"No you're back," she said sourly. "Must have been pretty secret business that you couldn't have told it before. Art editor? Piddistics! But, of course you're entitled to hold your tongues if you want to. Come, darling. Daniel's gone home now."

One would have dreamed that she had spoken the last sentence if one had not seen her lips move. For a greater contrast than the voice she addressed to us, and that in which she cooed her summons to her beloved grandchild, could not be imagined.

Dicky swung Junior to his shoulder, and slipped his hand beneath his cantankerous mother's arm.

"Don't be wrathful, mother dear," he pleaded. "We really did have to go but we hurried back as soon as we could."

She walked, pattered by his side, and I brought up an ignominious rear. I knew that it would take her several hours to forgive me.

although Dicky was already pardoned.

"There's a scarecrow for you!" Dicky spoke carelessly as we reached the old gate which separated the woodland trail from the road. A tattoo-demonium figure was slouching past in the direction of the Ticer farm. At Dicky's words, which the ragged man evidently heard, he stopped short, looked hard at our advancing group, and then, as he recognized me, scowled furiously, lifted his hand in a gesture which my imagination dubbed menacing, muttered a few words savagely in a foreign tongue and slouched on.

With a panic-stricken catch at my heart, I recognized the man across the road.

There would be no occasion for an unemployment conference were the buyers to break their strike.

It's not hard to understand why Wilbur Voliva should hold that the world is flat. Even life must appear flat to one residing in Zion City.

A year hence it would be interesting to know the views of the wife of the Iowa miner who has just inherited a million on the evils of capitalism.

From the spirit of Senator Harrison's remarks, the uninformed might be led into assuming that the senator had been hard at work during the entire congressional vacation.

We refuse to worry over the report that paper money is to be made smaller so long as the size of the figures isn't altered.

After all, there is nothing new in the home brew business. A century ago it was the exceptional home without its jug of whisky, and its keg of home brew.

The library trustees of the Minnesota town who have barred "Main Street" will hardly come up to the average conception of what constitutes good sports.

It seems that the impossible is possible. Anyway a lot of roads which couldn't possibly be constructed for less than the estimated cost are to be built for something like half of it.

Considering that her specialty was murder, it's easy to understand how unleading a car of coal might strike Mrs. Eva Kieber as hard work.

One explanation of the wide divergence of unemployment figures may be that in one case the figures are based on the men bread-winners of the family while in the other comparison is made with war-time employment when every member of the family was out at work while the family watch dog was tied up at home to run the churn.

There is absolutely nothing in the view that a rain during fair week is deprecated because it interferes with the racine. Not a bit of it. The distress caused by a fair week rain is limited solely to the discomfort it causes those who desire to stroll about and view the big pumpkins and the fat stock.

Ohio plans to make the killing of a police officer first degree murder, but for the slaying of the ordinary citizen the customary punishment of a slap on the wrist will probably prevail.

THE MEXICAN CENTENARY.

Mexico is celebrating the centennial of her independence from Spain. What a hundred years it has been! Twice the country has been ruled nominally as an empire, and as a republic the greater part of the time the government has not been more stable. Often its presidents changed with the frequency of the moon. It has been a turbulent century and the last decade was not less so than any that preceded it.

The conditions in Mexico under the Spanish dominion were not good and under independence they did not improve. The Mexicans always have had an affinity for trouble, and if that spirit seems a bit dormant now there is no assurance it will not awaken again. How much of the responsibility for the internal dissensions which have characterized the people are due to misgovernment and how much to the natural liking of the people for trouble may not be accurately determined. However, it is clear that the people have not learned the lesson of yielding to the majority and the majority has not learned to consider the rights of the minority.

Under the rule of Diaz, the government was despotic, yet it may be that such is the only kind for which Mexico is at present fitted. It is certain that while there were great abuses of power under the Diaz regime, there was order and the nation progressed with great rapidity. Had it been a more benevolent despotism it might not have been succeeded by the turmoil that ensued. Yet the internal disorder which has marked the hundred years of independence is not surprising when the mixed character of the population is considered. Three-fourths of the people are of Indian blood, either pure or mixed. The natural resources of the country offer great possibilities. The centennial celebration marks the lapse of time that has great political advancement, though progress commercially has been made, of course. It is to be hoped that entrance on the second century will usher in an era of stability and quiet.

A cessation from revolution and a turning toward industry would make Mexico's second hundred years greatly in contrast with the first.

MUST HAVE THEIR BEER.

A Mediterranean steamer out of New York, it is reported, has on board several passengers who are "going to live in Central Europe for a year by order of their physicians, who stated that it was essential for the health of their patients to have at least two pints of good beer daily."

The departure of this handful of thirsty exiles need not give those of us who stay at home any great cause to worry. We shall probably be able to keep the country going without them.

It is doubtful whether the nature of the malady which demands a tribute of two pints of good beer daily will arouse general interest, except perhaps for the purpose of finding out what it is, so that this disease may the better be avoided. But the destination of these victims of a disease which demands a libation of two pints of good beer daily gives cause for reflection. One is justified in the opinion that the treatment is more terrible than the malady. A year in Central Europe even with a generous measure of malt and hops as counter-irritant is a sentence not to be taken lightly. For a patient who needs rest and quiet and a moderate allowance of substantial food Central Europe makes no appeal as a desirable retreat.

There is too much brewing over there of things that are not to be quaffed. There is too much stirring in the political atmosphere and not enough in the industrial field. In the worst succession of social upheavals and disturbances it is doubtful whether one could even be sure of his two pints of good beer daily. And even with the two pints it is a strange mixture of fears and forebodings which Central Europe has to offer these unfortunate exiles from America.

In sober truth, it must be admitted that as between Central Europe with its two pints and America with its soda pop the majority of us will prefer the latter.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By Dr. James Ball Naylor.]

LONG LIFE.

Do you desire to live to be old?
Of course you do, if you can retain your physical vigor and mental faculties; if you can continue to labor and love, rejoice and prosper. But how can this consummation be realized? Legend would have us believe that ages ago men and women lived to be hundreds of years old.

I gravely doubt it. Why? Because it is contrary to human nature, human experience and human reason.

Authentic history furnishes no record of anything of the kind. Probably, in that far day, they did not reckon time as we do now.

Legend would have us believe, too, that in the days of chivalry men were larger and stronger than at present.

But the modern American athlete can not squeeze his muscular mass into a suit of ancient armor.

Thus the legend is effectually discredited. Doubtless human beings live longer today than ever before in the world's history.

There's a reason.

Despite all the dangers, risks and drawbacks of modern civilization, conditions conducive to health and longevity are more prevalent today than ever before.

We know how to live better and longer; we have the methods and means which enable us to live better and longer; and we do live better and longer.

The span of human life is constantly lengthening.

We are not growing weaker as we grow wiser. But how can one live to be old—barring accidents, of course? How can one live to be a centenarian?

James Martin Peebles lives in Los Angeles. He is a physician, and the author of a book—"How To Live a Century and Grow Old Gracefully."

Too, he is ninety-nine years old. That's really the important thing about Dr. Peebles.

How has he managed to live so long—and keep so hale and clear-headed? Here are the rules he lays down:

"Eat no meat. Go to bed every night at 8:30. Out of bed every morning at 6. Never use intoxicating liquors. Never complain. Avoid all worry and keep a harmonious mind. Have a strong will power. Always look for the new. Keep calm."

All good advice—for Dr. Peebles. But will these hard and fast rules apply well to all persons? Will they prove beneficial, efficacious, in all cases for instance? They will not. For all persons are not constituted alike, physically and mentally. Dr. Peebles presents himself a living proof of the virtues of his theory and practice; but his proof isn't convincing. For we know of persons who have lived to be a hundred years old, who followed none of his rules and regulations. Longevity is a much a matter of heredity, as it is of environment and habits.

However, there is no reason to doubt that temperance and cheerfulness are conducive to longevity—other things being favorable.

May each and every one of us live to be a hundred!

When you eat potatoes, look 'em in the eyes; when you eat corn on the cob, smile from ear to ear; but when you eat raw onions—give way to tears.

The problems from the Far East trouble us; but so do the troubles from the near east.

"Cedar boxes, it is said, impart a peculiar aroma to cigars," avers an exchange. So that's what ails cigars nowadays, eh?

TWENTY YEARS AGO

J. Fred Dombaur and George H. Christian, Jr., returned from Buffalo, where they attended the exposition.

Ray Heber and Elba Padlock returned from the East, after a summer's tour as the Buckeye Trio. The other member, Mr. Houlahan, went to New York City to join a theatrical troupe.

The Missionary Aid society of the Baptist church held a called meeting at the home of Mrs. C. L. Starkey Thursday afternoon in order to finish up their white cross work.

The sophomores, Juniors and seniors of the local high school entertained the freshmen and teachers at a party at the school auditorium Thursday night of last week. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buck and children.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Thompson, of Big Island; Mr. and Mrs. McClelland and daughter, of Marion; and Mrs. W. B. Gump, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mount were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gornoff, south of town, at dinner Sunday.

Let the
"Easy" Prove to You

In your own home that it can do the family washing better and with less effort than by hand at a saving of $10 to $15 a month.

Let it show how the two vacuum cups do the work of human hands.

By air pressure and suction these cups gently yet irresistibly force the hot, soapy water through the meshes of the garments sixty times a minute, taking a new position with each down stroke, washing dainty things such as silks and waists just as successfully as blankets, sheets, etc.

The big, open, copper tank, with its smooth, beautiful surface is easy to keep clean. There is no place for dirt to lodge. The tank is just the right height, making it easy to load and unload.

The wringer is another thing you will like, because it can be started, stopped or reversed, without interfering with the washing of the clothes. A gas heater also heats water to any desired temperature.

With all these good features, it says nothing about the hard labor to save, is it any wonder that thousands of women who are using it week after week, are loud in their praise of the "EASY."

Won't you let the "EASY" do your next week's washing FREE and in this manner prove that it can do the family washing better and quicker at a saving of $10 to $15 a month.

General Mitchell is considered one of the most expert fliers in the world. Colonel M. M. Patrick has been named to succeed General Mitchell.

JEALOUSY IS BEHIND CRIME

Belief of Akron Police in Murder Case.

WOMAN CONFESSES KILLING HUSBAND

Throws Acid in Face of Victim While He Sleeps—Arrested at Grave of Husband.

Akron, Sept. 23.—At 1:15 this afternoon, police department announced that Mrs. Minnie Derr would be arraigned at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, on a charge of second-degree murder. An affidavit charging her with the killing of her husband is to be filed late today in police court by the prosecutor.

Confession Alleged.
Akron, Sept. 23.—Pricing restlessly up and down a cell at the county jail, Mrs. Minnie L. Derr today stands charged with the murder of her husband, Alvin L. Derr, secretary and treasurer of the Derr Sales company. The woman is said to have confessed.

Jealousy is given as the motive for the crime.
"I didn't mean to do it," Prosecutor Doyle says the woman confessed to him, while her four children, ranging in age from eighteen to twenty-two, and two brothers of her husband in an adjoining room, "I only wanted to make him suffer a little for all the suffering he caused me."

Derr died Tuesday as a result of acid thrown in his face while he slept, early Monday morning. Burns about the mouth prevented him from speaking. At the time it was believed some intruder had thrown the acid and it was not until after Derr's death that suspicion was pointed at the widow.

As the husband's body was being lowered into a grave, detectives from the county prosecutor's office took Mrs. Derr into custody and charged her with the crime. For a time she stoutly maintained her innocence, but finally broke down, the prosecutor says and sobbed out her guilt with her children as witnesses.

"We can get believe that mother did this," the children say. Derr was a prominent business man and the prosecutor says his attentions to other women had caused many quarrels.

Lays His Plans.
In additional information given today, Prosecutor Doyle said that during her examination, late yesterday, Mrs. Derr had confessed to the fact that she carefully arranged all plans before casting the caustic soda into her husband's face. She packed a suitcase, opened a window in the cellar, strewing clothing and other articles about the house, bent on making it appear that robbery had been committed. She said that her husband awakened twice during the time she was arranging the "robbery scene," asked what she was doing and then dropped off to sleep again.

According to the prosecutor, she first planned to leave her home and go to some distant city to start life anew. Then she thought of the alleged suffering she had endured and decided to hurl the acid into his face.

In a message received from Smithville, Wayne county, where both Mr. and Mrs. Derr were born and spent their childhood and where the parents of both now reside, comes the report that Mrs. Derr has always been hysterically inclined and that at one time, when a child, she suffered from St. Vitus dance.

The dead man and the widow were born on the same street in the little country town and had always been friends, according to the report.

PEOPLE SHOW FAITH IN ADMINISTRATION

President's Policies Find Favor in New Mexico's Election.

Socorro, N. M., Sept. 23.—Commenting on his election as United States Senator, Holm T. Bursam, Republican, yesterday issued the following statement:
"Recent returns indicate my plurality will exceed 9,000 out of a total vote of 65,000.
"I attribute this victory to the approval of the constructive business policy of President Harding. The people have faith that the Harding administration will speed up the return to prosperity throughout the country."

Marker News.

Columbus, Sept. 23.—Plans for sending out market news will be discussed here this afternoon at a conference attended by State Director of Agriculture Taber, George Marvin, chief of the state bureau of markets, a representative of the federal bureau of markets and others.

Editor in Chief.

Columbus, Sept. 23.—Miss Margaret Cramer, Mansfield, has been selected by Philip W. Porter, Lakewood, editor-in-chief, as one of the five issue editors of the Ohio State Lantern, published daily at the Ohio State university.

LINER LEVIATHAN MAY BE RESTORED

Washington, Sept. 23.—Decision to recondition the liner, Leviathan, now at Hoboken, New Jersey, and to restore her to the north Atlantic service has practically been reached by the shipping board, it is learned.
General Manager Powell will discuss the question here today with representatives of six ship building companies. Although Mr. Powell declared the conference was intended only as a "preliminary discussion" it was understood that it would be followed by an invitation to submit bids.
Estimates of the cost of reconditioning the Leviathan have ranged between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000.

DEVELOPMENTS IN MURDER CASE

Two Brothers Being Grilled at Dowagiac, Today.

ANOTHER ARREST AT TEMPLE, MICHIGIAN

Officers Are Trying To Link Up Quarrels Over Girl Victim with Murder.

Dowagiac, Mich., Sept. 23.—The theory that a fined or lunatic clubbed William Monroe, his wife and daughter to death, will be taken up again, it is expected as the result of a comparison of fingerprints found in the house with those of William and Don Kinney, arrested last night for questioning.

"Comparison of the bloody finger prints found in the house, with those of William and Don Kinney shows neither is the man," Detective Charles Donaldson said today. William Kinney will be released today, but Don will be held for investigation in connection with a robbery.

Being Grilled.

Dowagiac, Mich., Sept. 23.—William and Don Kinney, brothers, were to be grilled today in connection with the deaths of William Monroe, his wife and seventeen-year-old daughter, Neva, who were beaten to death in their home here, Saturday. William Kinney was arrested at Temple, Michigan, and is being brought back here, while Don was taken into custody at South Bend, Indiana.

William Kinney, a married man, is said to have had a violent quarrel with Monroe more than a year ago, over Kinney's attentions to Neva Monroe. Both of the Kinneys were in Dowagiac Saturday, the day the crime is believed to have been committed.

Don Kinney has admitted his visit to Dowagiac, but claims that he came to visit his aunt, Mrs. Edward Drardson, who lives a few blocks from the Monroe home. Mrs. Drardson confirms his statements and asserts that he and two friends spent the night in her home.

Testimony of physicians at the inquest was that the body of Neva Monroe bore evidence of an assault. Dr. George W. Green and Dr. J. H. Jones, who performed the autopsy, gave his testimony and also declared they found evidences of an assault upon the body of twelve-year-old Ardith Monroe, who is still in a serious condition from the beating received at the time the other members of the family were slain.

EVANSTON POLICE SEARCH FOR YOUTH

Missing Since Annual Class Fight at University.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—A squad of Evanston police and volunteer members of the Northwestern university student body are searching the woods and beaches north of Chicago, today, for Leighton Mount, eighteen, a Northwestern student who has not been seen since the annual class fight between the freshmen and sophomore classes, Wednesday night. His parents fear he is the victim of hazing.

Mount is a member of the freshman class, which defeated the sophomores. According to other students, several freshmen were captured by the sophomores, taken to the edge of a wood, forced to undress and abandoned. It is thought Mount may have been among this number and that, fearful to emerge from the woods unclothed, he may have been overcome by exposure.

Mount's home is in Evanston. His father, J. L. Mount, an educator, is leading the search.

SHOOT GIRL; KILLS HERSELF

Tragic Affair in Streets of New York Today.

JEALOUSY PROMPTS A TRAGEDY TODAY

Gun User Sends Bullet Through Her Brain After Attempt To Slay Her Rival.

New York, Sept. 23.—Jealousy, today, prompted a beautiful young divorcee to attempt to slay a wealthy heiress, her rival for the affections of a handsome exporter who has an office in Wall street and then, in dramatic fashion, to blow her own brains out.

Miss Mildred Hanan, granddaughter of the late multi-millionaire shoe manufacturer, James Hanan, was shot twice and seriously wounded in front of No. 33 Schermerhorn street, by Mrs. Grace Lawes, a jealous rival, who then ended her own life. Miss Hanan was being escorted to an automobile by John B. Borland, exporter, after a call upon friends when accosted by Mrs. Lawes.

Miss Hanan was hurried to the Long Island hospital, where it was found one bullet had entered her breast and possibly punctured a lung, while another plowed its way through the flesh of her left arm.

Borland, the only witness of the shooting, admitted to police that jealousy of him probably was the cause of the tragedy.

Mrs. Lawes, who has been living at the Vanderbilt hotel, was a well-to-do divorcee of San Francisco.

A check-up of events shows Mrs. Lawes evidently had laid in wait for her quarry, having stayed in the basement of the apartment for more than an hour for her intended victim.

Miss Hanan, Borland said, recognized Mrs. Lawes immediately.

"Oh, there's Grace," in evident surprise.

Mrs. Lawes was fingered at her hand bag. As she reached the step of the apartment house, she cried:

"Now I have you."

Opens Fire.

Immediately Mrs. Lawes opened fire. Miss Hanan staggered at the first shot. She collapsed at the second. Mrs. Lawes stepped back a pace or two and then sent a bullet into her own brain.

The wounded heiress scrambled to her feet with the blood streaming from her arm, staggered to the stoop of an apartment house a few doors away and sat down.

Policeman Murray rushed up and found Miss Hanan moaning. Borland was nearby. An automobile ambulance was summoned and both women were sent to the nearest hospital.

Borland was taken to a police station and questioned.

Police investigation disclosed that the tragedy was the climax of a week-long vigil maintained by Mrs. Lawes in front of her apartment house at No. 780 Park avenue where Miss Hanan lived for a week.

Police say the beautiful divorcee had been going to that address night after night in a closed automobile and waiting for the appearance of the heiress.

Last night, Miss Hanan was entertaining some friends including Borland and Miss Dorothy Gottschalk, at dinner, when the telephone rang.

"Who was calling, Rosa?" Miss Hanan asked the maid as she hung up.

"Mrs. Lawes," was the reply.

No attention was paid to the incident then, but it developed that Mrs. Lawes had questioned the maid upon the identity of Miss Hanan's guests and had learned Borland was among them.

The theory is that Mrs. Lawes guessed the party was proceeding to Miss Gottschalk's home in Brooklyn—Miss Hanan taking her guest home in a car. Accordingly she armed herself with a revolver, took a subway train for Brooklyn, went straight to the Schermerhorn address, the home of Miss Gottschalk and hid herself in the basement.

Miss Hanan and Borland remained with Miss Gottschalk about two hours, making it shortly after 1 a. m. today, when they came down the steps to take the automobile for home.

Three Shots.

Miss Hanan in telling her story of the attempted assassination, said:

"We had just emerged from the vestibule when I saw Mrs. Lawes. The next thing I heard were three pistol reports. I dropped to the sidewalk and when I got up saw blood running from my arm. I ran for a hundred feet and collapsed. I then heard another shot fired."

"Mr. Borland picked me up and carried me to the stoop of No. 33, Schermerhorn street. A policeman came running up and Mr. Borland asked him to get an ambulance."

Borland admitted to police he had been "out" with both Miss Hanan and Mrs. Lawes a number of times during the last few months. He admitted Mrs. Lawes had sent several threatening letters to Miss Hanan. He conceded he liked Miss Hanan very much "as a friend," but asked whether he was engaged to the heiress, replied:

"Oh no."

It was said Borland was introduced to Miss Hanan by the divorcee. That Mrs. Lawes committed her crime while under the influence of some powerful drug was the belief expressed by police. In her handbag were found twenty-eight grains of morphine. In addition, Mrs. Katherine Strong, of No. 33 Schermerhorn street, opposite the scene of the shooting, said she saw Mrs. Lawes, shortly before midnight, sit upon a doorstep, open her handbag and take from it something which resembled a teacup into which she emptied what might have been a powder or liquid and drank it.

Mrs. Strong said the woman paced up and down the street for some time. The draught appeared to stimulate the woman Mrs. Strong said.

SALVATORE CALA IS FOUND GUILTY

Slayer of Kaber Sentenced to Life Term in Prison.

Cleveland, Sept. 23.—Salvatore Cala, confessed slayer of Daniel F. Kaber, wealthy Cleveland publisher, was today found guilty of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation of mercy and was immediately sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for life.

According to testimony presented, Cala, with another man not under arrest, were hired by Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber to kill her husband two years ago. Mrs. Kaber is now serving a life sentence in Marysville reformatory for the offense.

Cala was arrested near Buffalo, last June. He confessed that he had held Kaber while a companion stabbed him. He declared that Mrs. Calavito, now awaiting trial, had hired him to play his part in the crime. At the end of the trial today his attorneys presented no evidence, but pleaded with the jury that in view of the fact that Mrs. Kaber had escaped with life imprisonment, a heavier penalty should not be imposed upon Cala, who was called an "ignorant tool."

FALL ARRIVES TODAY ON SCHEDULE TIME

Under the Most Auspicious Conditions—Nothing Sombre.

Yes, indeed! Some of the papers were a little too previous announcing the arrival of fall, for fall arrived on schedule time this morning at 8:20 o'clock, Marion time, and not on September 21 as had been erroneously and mistakenly stated and widely-heralded over the state.

Sweet summer got the gate under the most auspicious conditions. The storm heralds fell on September 21, and Old Sol made everything glorious and nice today for the entrance of fall, which failed to make a somber entrance, to the delight of devotees of the fair and sideshow splendors.

But seriously speaking, however, this is the season when the gay young Marlonite is beginning to wonder where he will get the price to rescue last year's "benny" from uncle. Also the arrival of fall brings to many a "deep and abiding lack" of faith in the present whereabouts of last summer's salary or wages, termed by the mere vulgar—the weekly insult.

PRELIMINARY HEARING TODAY

Arbuckle Appears Before a Police Judge.

SOME SALIENT FACTS STATE ESTABLISHES

Audience in Court-Room Composed Mostly of Women—Defense Conceals Plans.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The second real of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle's first appearance as a tragedian was to be "shot" this afternoon, before another matinee audience of "women only" that promised to eclipse the record attendance established yesterday.

At the second session of the preliminary hearing, the famous comedian was scheduled to face his accusers as the state proceeded to lay before Judge Sylvan Lazarus the evidence on which District Attorney Matthew Brady expects Arbuckle to be held for trial in superior court for the murder of pretty Virginia Rappe, film actress who died following attendance at "Fatty's" go-

LABOR-DAY PARTY.

Mrs. Bambine Delmont, friend of the dead girl, who accompanied her to the party, was to appear in the steller role of prosecuting witness.

For the first time since the party she is to face the man she alleges attacked and injured her friend. Backing up her testimony, the state is expected to call Alice Blake and Zeh Prevost, show girls who were also in attendance at the party.

Al Semmacher, manager for Miss Rappe, whose story before a Los Angeles grand jury as to certain alleged admissions made by Arbuckle was another witness whose testimony was expected to be presented by the state.

Several other names were on the witness list, but all had minor roles, principally of a technical and corroborative nature.

The late hour of convening—2 p. m.—made it doubtful whether the state could complete its case today as had been planned.

Assistant District Attorney Milton U'ren, who is handling the court proceedings, said that every effort would be made to complete presentation of the state's case before adjournment tonight.

The initial session was comparatively brief—a little over two hours, at which four witnesses were heard.

They include Dr. Shelby Strange, official autopsy surgeon; Dr. William Ophuls, who made an unofficial autopsy; Miss Grace Halston, a nurse who assisted in the autopsy performed by Dr. Ophuls and Percy Hennessey, board of health employee who testified to Miss Rappe's death.

But four salient facts were adduced in their testimony.

It was established that Miss Rappe is dead.

That her death was due to peritonitis following a ruptured bladder.

That the rupture was "probably due to application of an external force."

That a number of bruises were found on her body and that one on her arm was, in the opinion of witnesses, superinduced by "finger pressure."

The hearing was featured by heated clashes between counsel for the state and counsel for the defense.

Assistant District Attorney U'ren and Frank Dominguez, who heads Arbuckle's legal battery, were at loggerheads constantly. However, the hearing was expedited by the disinclination of the defense to cross-examine witnesses other than to make certain formal inquiries to complete the record.

Throughout the hearing, the defense gave no sign of its plans. What steps it expects to take when the state finishes remains undisclosed. It was reported, but not confirmed, that Fred Fishback and Ira Fortoulis, guests of Arbuckle at the party and summoned as witnesses for the state, are to be called by the defense.

That the defense anticipates introducing evidence in behalf of Arbuckle was indicated when Attorney Dominguez remarked to Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, member of the Women's Vigilance committee:

"If you ladies will suspend judgment in this case until all the evidence has been brought out."

"That is our intention," she replied. "But we expect all of it to be brought out."

It was learned today that Dr. Arthur Berardice, missing physician who attended Miss Rappe the first night of her illness, had returned to the city and would be questioned today by District Attorney Brady. Inasmuch as the state has yet called none of the physicians who attended Miss Rappe during her week's illness, it was considered probable that he would not appear at the preliminary hearing.

Orchards in Northwestern Canada have been equipped with electric lights, so that the fruit may be picked at night, when the air is cool. It is found each fruit keeps better than that picked in the daytime.

SPRINGFIELD MAN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

In his possession the police found several checks made payable to George S. Clark, as well as bank books from Boston, Springfield and Philadelphia institutions. The police also confiscated important papers found upon his person. These will be turned over to the department of justice.

A FINE STROKE OF DIPLOMACY

Treaty with Germany Is Real Achievement.

PRESIDENT HARDING PAID GLOWING TRIBUTE

United States Senator Wadsworth Speaks Words of Praise in New York Speech.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 23.—United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., in his keynote speech as temporary chairman of the New York Republican state convention, yesterday, said that "no finer stroke of diplomacy adorns the annals of our state department" than the new treaty with Germany.

Had the Harding administration done nothing else, he added, "its achievement in thus entangling and setting aright our foreign relations would justify itself to fame."

"And when one realizes how promptly and simply it was done," he continued, "one can not help smiling at the dismal prophecies of those who believed or pretended to believe that the only way was the league of nations way."

The senator said all honor was due to President Harding for conceiving the "great and beneficent step" of the coming conference on disarmament and Far Eastern questions.

Concerning the record of the Republican party in congress, he said: "The impartial observer is impelled to the belief that the party, since it was restored to power a few months ago has lived up to its high traditions of devoted service, that it has traveled far along the road marked out for it, that its program for the immediate future is intelligent, constructive and American, that it is indeed a party fit to govern."

He eulogized the president, saying "the country knows, the civilized world knows, that a great figure has appeared among men—Warren G. Harding."

The convention was called to make nominations for the judiciary and adopt a state platform.
